

MASTER OF EUROPEAN STUDIES

The curriculum is designed as a program with three main disciplines that make typical teaching subjects at European universities, specifically political science, economics and law.

Interdisciplinary approach has been highly appreciated and therefore widely applied both to the design and to the implementation of the curriculum we are offering.

Graduates will be able to evaluate and critically think of complex problems that cross the boundaries of traditional disciplines, which is necessary for a thorough understanding of the European integration process and the institutional dynamics of the European Union.
